

Waste Matters for Crown Cork & Seal

Eco Technology Ltd have been working with Crown Cork and Seal to strengthen staff knowledge of waste legislation. The Leicester site manufactures cans for the food and beverage markets, and first achieved ISO14001 back in 1998.

Internal audits revealed the need for staff to have a practical understanding of waste and environmental law affecting their business.

A training course was tailored to the company needs for both management and operator levels. Topics included waste definitions, the Duty of Care, ISO 14001, waste management, contractor licensing, and completion of special waste consignment and waste transfer notes.

The training received positive feedback from all attendees and the course will be run again in September. Crown Cork and Seal should benefit from continuing compliance with relevant legislation, and by winning staff commitment to continuing waste minimisation programmes.

For more information on training courses tailored to your company needs, contact Hannah Scott on 0117 3101360 or visit our website at www.ecotechnology.ltd.uk